

FUN DAYS – SHOWDOWN, APRIL 5th

MANNEQUIN JUMPING STARTS AFTER THE LIFTS CLOSE

Have you built your mannequin yet? You only have a few more weeks until the "Great Event" takes place. Past years winners: Biggest Bad Air: "Oh Jeez" Lindsay, Maria & Carley Mosher of W.S.S. Engineering: "Budman" Gary Hooks and Marv Jordan of Great Falls Distance and Crowd Pleaser "Disappointed Griz Fan" Dave Gunnes, Tom Fisher, Tim Kifer & Gerg Campanella of Great Falls. Do you think you can beat last years efforts? Get off your butt and create a hill monster that will make you the envy of all.

Fun Days is open to all members and non-members.

RULES FOR MANNEQUIN CONSTRUCTION:

- Rule #1 Mannequins named George are barred from competition.
- Rule #2 Mannequins must utilize skis in their construction.
- Rule #3 Mannequins must have no more than three skis.
- Rule #4 No Mannequin shall be naked or obscene in appearance excepting that those dressed as normal Ski Patrollers will be allowed a waiver from the "Obscene In Appearance" clause due to an obvious, unavoidable conflict.
- Rule #5 Weight cannot exceed 150 lbs. (you must be able to tow your creation to the top of the jumping hill)
- Rule #6 It is encouraged to build a mannequin that is animated however, the public must not be placed in harms way.
- Rule #7 Techno Nerds (engineers) may enter but shall not construct mannequins with rocket-based or mechanical propulsion systems on the grounds they would have an unfair advantage over those constructed by simpletons (non-engineers). In addition, there should be a limit on time spent on construction, defined simply as "Reasonable and Prudent". This rule applies specifically to anyone with an engineering degree (Dave B., Jim & Idaho).
- Rule #8 Humans may not impersonate a mannequin. All mannequins are subject to a hammer test.

Prizes will be awarded in the following categories:

Biggest Bad Air – Distance – Crowd Pleasers & Engineering (Rube Goldberg Award) – Two new categories are: Best of Show (judged while on the patio) & Yard Sale

A distinguished panel of judges will determine winners.

A Ski Club/Showdown Officer will validate all entries.
